History

On February 9, 1988, the Board of Trustees of Samford University authorized the establishment of a School of Divinity beginning in the 1988-89 academic year. In one sense this action fulfilled the founding purpose of the University adopted in 1841, which provided for "the establishment of a Theological Institution, connected with the college hereinafter established."

In December, 1988, the Samford Board of Trustees voted to name the school the Beeson School of Divinity in honor of Ralph Waldo Beeson and his late father, John Wesley Beeson. Ralph Beeson provided the largest gift from a living individual in Samford history to establish the only divinity school at that time at a Baptist college or university in the nation.

In its first year, Beeson School of Divinity secured the Dean, four full-time faculty, two adjunctive faculty, and enrolled 32 students.

The School of Divinity, like other entities of Samford University, is open to persons from all denominations. The confessional context in which the faculty teaches is defined by the Baptist Faith and Message Statement of 1963. The school offers quality theological education in a Christian university setting from an explicitly evangelical perspective. Non-Baptist faculty teach in accordance with their own convictions on matters of denominational distinctives.

Joint-Degree Programs

M.Div./M.B.A.

The M.Div./M.B.A. joint-degree program offered by Beeson School of Divinity and the School of Business allows students to pursue the master of divinity degree and the M.B.A. degree concurrently. The program is designed to enrich the educational opportunities available to students in the separate disciplines by encouraging interdisciplinary approaches to ministry preparation and organizational problems that directly impact churches and other religious institutions. Students take 82 credits of coursework in the Beeson Divinity School and 39 credits in the School of Business. Students interested in this joint program should apply to the School of Business for admission into the M.B.A. program at the conclusion of the first year of the M.Div. program.

M.Div./M.S.E.

The M.Div./M.S.E. in Education joint-degree program combines work in Beeson School of Divinity and the School of Education and Professional Studies. Twelve credits of education-degree coursework are accepted as part of the elective requirement of the M.Div. degree. Crossover credit from the divinity degree to the education degree is determined on a case-by-case basis as may be allowable within government regulations concerning teacher certification. Students normally are required to complete the first year of the M.Div. before beginning work in the School of Education and Professional Studies.

M.Div./J.D.

The M.Div./J.D. joint-degree program offered in collaboration between Beeson School of Divinity and Cumberland School of Law allows students to use 15 credits from each degree as crossover electives for the other degree, thus reducing the credits for both professional degrees from 184 to 154. Students must complete their first year of law school before beginning work in the Divinity school.

M.Div./M.M.

The M.Div./M.M. joint-degree program, offered in conjunction with the School of Performing Arts, allows students to use credits from each school as part of the other school's degree, thus reducing credits for both degrees from 132 to 113. Divinity students must qualify for admission to the M.M. program no later than the beginning of the third semester of M.Div. work.

Nondegree Divinity Programs
